

Written Exercise Chapter 5

There is a lot of apps that make trucker lives easier. The three that was researched offer a lot to make life on the road for truckers easier. Truckstop Mobile is an app that let trucker find loads and even post loads that allow others to choose from that is posted daily. They can post their truck, check fuel prices and check broker credit scores. It offer fuel pricing and location. To sign up you have to go to their website. The app is free and it is available on Apple app store and Google Play store.

The next app is Drivewyze, an app that allow the user to be notified about weight stations and inspections site when the trucker is two miles away from one. It sends weight station bypass request in participating states. It sends a bypass request to the driver to either bypass or pull-in when they are one mile away. There is a 30 day free trial, then after that free trial it is $15.49 per month. This app is available on Apple and Android devices and it can be found in the corresponding app store.

The last app has almost what a trucker need. Allstays Truck stops and Travel Plazas offers a lot. It shows truck stops, permanent weigh stations, GPS and weather location. The driver can even find food and parking spaces, and even motels where they can stay and show location of rest areas. It cost $9.99 on the Apple app store, and it only works with Apple devices, like iPhone and iPad.
